Yvonne Perry,
Freelance Writer

YVONNE PERRY

I am a freelance writer in Nashville, Tennessee available to write your newspaper or magazine article, brochure, newsletter, sales ad, book, proposal, business correspondence, web site content, and anything else you might imagine.

I am a graduate of The American Institute of Holistic Theology where I earned a Bachelor of Science in Metaphysics. I enjoy researching and writing about science, healing and spirituality, but I also have a wide variety of interests including travel, nature, politics, interior decorating, art, music, law, humor, gardening, economics, and lifestyles.

EMAIL EPISODES HAS BEEN UNLEASHED!

I've written a humorous book that you will enjoy. Here's a short review:

Take a frustrated woman, give her a computer, and she will tell the world more than they ever wanted to know. This is the innovative concept developed by Yvonne Perry for her debut novel, Email Episodes. She documents everyday events that take place in the life of Expressy, a wife and mother whose electronic communications with friends is a primary outlet from the hassling of codependency and typical teenagers. What at first appears just to be a chronology of amusing stories in email form quickly develops into a much deeper journey. The reader becomes invested in this woman and cheers every step of her spiritual evolution. Through her writing Expressy finds the courage to step out of her dysfunction and begin to truly love herself. You'll laugh at her hilarious antics and be inspired by her bravery as she transitions through divorce, mid-life crisis, and healing from religious abuse. This book is a must-read for anyone who wants to drop the façade and simply be real.

Purchase a copy, read a book review, a testimonial or an excerpt from Email Episodes online at www.yvonneperry.net. I will gladly speak to your group about my book or present information about how I self-published.

Health & Wellness Magazine

I am a writer and sales representative for Health & Wellness Magazine. I enjoy interviewing people and writing articles that make them shine. With over 20,000 readers who are looking for health and wellness vendors and information, Health & Wellness Magazine is the only magazine of its kind in Nashville. Call for more information about placing an ad, or you may visit Health & Wellness Magazine online at www.healthandwellnessmag.com.
