

Charlie Case Biography

All of his life, clairvoyant Charlie Case has been bombarded with intense visions and lucid dreams, which reveal phenomenal past and futuristic events. From a very young age, he knew he would have to find a way to bring his private mental pictures into a tangible form for others to see. Every step of Charlie's career path led him to acquire knowledge and necessary skills to bring his dreams into reality.

From 1974 to 1982 Charlie played lead guitar in a local blues/rock band. His deep passion for music and art led him to learn high-end 3D computer animation techniques. By age 28, he had gained extensive PC knowledge and was building complete graphic systems and writing custom software for broadcast video production. His proficiency in music, art, computer and video production, opened doors of opportunity for Charlie as a freelance graphic artist in great demand. Atlanta-based Fortune 500 companies began to consult him for his technical and artistic specialty in the field of 3D cad and broadcast TV animation and other multi-media services. His company, Video Image Production, Inc., (www.vipinfo.com) specializes in computer and animation systems for the broadcast and corporate industries.

Even though Charlie is commended as an artistic guru by his professional associates, his true passion is about creating his own original productions that will help usher our planet into a new era. Committed to writing visual novels based on his supernatural visions, Charlie recently shifted to the exclusive production of fine motion art—organic and inspired from nature. He has retreated onto his 24 private, wooded acres 25 miles west of Atlanta where many highly creative and Grammy award winning artists seem to be directed by a Higher Force to talk with him about eclectic subjects such as sacred geometry, Vedic math, quantum physics and theology.

Committed to developing and delivering God's word in a new medium, Charlie feels there are many visual messages he must create before his time runs out. Divinely paired with Denna Shelton, Charlie believes that Twenty Gems Journeys to the Self plays an important role in presenting a positive message to the world while fulfilling the destiny and dreams of both artists.

“And the two fiery comets shall burn as one, they shall burn so brightly that all shall look up to see.”
