More than Meets the Eye True Stories about Death, Dying and Afterlife

Nashville, TN, 4th April, 2005 — Write on! Publishing announces the release of More Than Meets the Eye by Nashville author, Yvonne Perry.

Suppose you are alone and sense the presence of someone else in the room. Could it be a deceased loved one?

Yvonne Perry has revealed the grave truth about death, dying and Afterlife in her new book, More Than Meets the Eye. She has collected true stories from people across the country who have either died and come back to tell about it, or who have communicated with loved ones on the Other Side. These stories reveal why we should not be afraid of dying and how to actually look forward to the Afterlife. Perry addresses the known and the unknown fears about death and offers insight to help a soul prepare for transition.

Perry has had a few "close calls" of her own. She shares her near-death experiences and tells about her frequent communication with deceased loved ones, angels and spirit guides. "Crossing over and communicating with the spirit realm doesn't have to be frightening," says Perry.

Interviews with experts such as Rev. Juliet Nightingale, FOI International Relations Coordinator of the International Association for Near-Death Studies (IANDS), Tommy Mueller, an African Shaman, and Aaron Milstone, M.D. a doctor at Vanderbilt University, lend credibility and intrigue to this non-religious but very sound presentation for proof of an Afterlife.

Perry has been intrigued by the mystery of crossing over since she was a small child when she questioned, "If Heaven is so wonderful, why are people so sad when someone dies and goes there?" The curiosity continues, not just for Perry, but for more and more people who are interested in books about death, spirit and angels.

Perry, now 45, address topics that many people are not comfortable talking about—such as suicide, the near-death experience, end of life decisions, the experience of grief and other emotions regarding the passing of a loved one. Her chapter on euthanasia comes straight from her own experience with her beloved uncle who was kept alive on machines against his will for almost a year. In the chapter entitled, "Let Go of my Toe" she gives a heart-rending account of her uncle's plight and his spirit visits to her in his final days. Imagine her surprise when a year after his death she encountered his spirit at a 7-11 store smoking a cigarette and drinking Coke!

Perry addresses the touchy subject of suicide head on and shares some alternative viewpoints. For those who enjoy the TV show, CSI, Perry offers surprisingly true but graphic information about postmortem procedures and choices about body disposal.

Juliet Nightingale, who heads the Friends of IANDES Nashville, (FOI), has written the book's foreword and says of Yvonne Perry's book:

Perry has done a splendid job in bringing forth vital and pertinent information covering all facets of death, dying and the Afterlife—a subject that must be faced squarely in order to free us of the illusions and fear that have plagued us throughout human history.

More Than Meets the Eye was released with a book signing at Galactic Gateways New Age Fair and Wholistic Expo on April 2 & 3 at Nashville Fairgrounds.

Yvonne Perry will also present her book at the FOI Nashville meeting at the Factory in Franklin, TN on Monday, April 11th from 7-9P, where you'll be able to purchase a signed copy.

Linda Woods, host of the radio series, Windows to Wellness, says that Perry's book is:

A delightful exploration into the unknown by an author who openly shares her soul. If you have any doubts, fears or concerns about the dying process or the existence of an Afterlife, this book is for you. A welcome blend of intrigue, courage and adventure, that will open your mind, calm your spirit and lighten your heart.

Yvonne will be interviewed on Windows to Wellness talk radio - Wednesday, April 20th, at 5 pm CST on 98.9 WRFN-LPFM. Tune in live on the Internet at www.radiofreenashville.org.

Regardless of religious background, the reader may find comfort in knowing that this life on Earth is not all there is—that there truly is more than meets the eye!

Yvonne Perry is a freelance writer and public speaker, who has authored and self-published Email Episodes: A Hilarious Look at Life, and five children's books. She is a graduate of American Institute of Holistic Theology where she earned a Bachelor of Science in Metaphysics.
